

Bring clients and friends to the course for a unique learning opportunity.

Now you can entertain even a large group of golf enthusiasts with the chance to learn from the best in an actual course setting. Flexible dependent upon the number of attendees, GOLFTEC Certified Personal Coaches™ will set up learning stations, where coaches will discuss and demonstrate proper technique and strategy for a variety of situations. This can include driving, putting, chipping, pitching and bunker play, depending on the facility.

These sessions are also captured on video and then combined with appropriate tips and drills unique to the participant to create a WebLesson®, which is emailed back within just a few days on your branded website, to leave guests with both an unforgettable onsite experience and reminder of it for a long time to come.

An incredible measure of ROI and permanent reminder of the wonderful experience, 85% of these participants click to view their WebLessons before watching for 16 minutes and revisiting 2.6 times!
